

CELEBRATING INQUIRY AND INNOVATION IN HEALTH, COMMUNITY & JUSTICE

The College of Health and Social Sciences invites undergraduate students to present their research, scholarship and creative works at the first annual CHSS Undergraduate Showcase, to be held at the Seven Hills Conference Center on Thursday, May 4 from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

All CHSS undergraduate students, regardless of their research experience, are encouraged to enter their projects. Student work from Fall 2022 or Spring 2023 is eligible, and presentation formats will include posters, models, dress forms, interactive displays and other appropriate formats. Both individual and group projects from capstone/culminating experience courses, independent studies or developed as class assignments are welcome.

We are limited to 70 projects and will accept applications in the order that they are received until the showcase is full.

All students will receive a certificate of participation as well as constructive feedback from faculty and student peers. The program will include lunch as well as raffle prizes for student participants. This is a great opportunity to learn professional presentation skills and add to your resume!
